Research Methods in History

Course content

The course deals with the research process; namely the available tools and the necessary knowledge and skills required to write history on an advanced specialist level. The course will serve as a guide in students' transfer from being consumers and recipients of historical knowledge to becoming producers of this knowledge. Reflections on the student's new role will be a central feature in this course. The course will provide an introduction to the tools historians make use of in their work with sources and research literature, in the methods available to facilitate the preparation and management of the sources, and in the writing of a thesis.

Learning outcome

A candidate who passes this course is expected to have the following learning outcome according to the course curriculum, defined as knowledge and skills:

Knowledge

The candidate should

- have acquired an insight in how to develop a project from a preliminary set of ideas through a more defined approach
- have knowledge of central methods in historical research
- have experience in giving an account of and discussing relevant literature in written form
- have a knowledge of different types of historical sources used by historians
- know how to make use of some of the important archival and bibliographic institutions as well as digital resources used by historians
- have a knowledge of how to carry out the process of writing a master's thesis
- have a knowledge of the formal requirements of a master's thesis
- have a clear understanding of ethical questions of relevance to their project

Skills

The candidate should

- have the skills to write history on an advanced specialist level
- be able to competently assess relevant methods for their studies
- have the skills to reflect on and discuss different types of sources
- be able to competently inform herself of and discuss relevant literature
- be able to develop a project that fills the genre's requirements when it comes to scientific approach, structure and discussion of relevant literature
- have experience in verbal presentation of central themes in the field the candidate is writing his/her thesis in

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am directed to state that you have been appointed a member of the Board of Moderators for the B.A. Pt.-III (Hons. & Gen.) Examination, 2020 in History.

In this connection your attention is invited to the following points:

1. It shall be the duty of the members of the Board of Moderators to see the rules, regulations and instructions are strictly complied with.
2. Moderators shall see that the questions set are from within the limits of the prescribed syllabus and text books, if any. If necessary, each question paper may be moderated in consultation with the paper setter concerned.
3. Instructions issued to the paper-setters may be seen on the reverse of this letter for guidance.
4. Each paper is to be signed by the moderators after moderation. No manuscript of or notes on the questions moderated be taken/retained by any moderator.
5. After moderation, the Board will kindly send a report to the Controller of Examinations given its views on the quality of questions set in reference to the following points:
  - i) Whether the questions set by the paper-setters conformed to the Regulations and to the special instructions issued.
  - ii) Whether these were within the limits of the syllabuses of studies prescribed.
  - iii) Whether any sharp variation from the previous years' standard was noticed in the paper(s).

If any of your near relation or a student privately coached by you is appearing at the examination for which you are a moderator, kindly decline this offer showing reason.

I shall be glad if you will kindly inform this office at your earliest convenience whether you are willing to accept the appointment or not.

The date fixed for moderation will be intimated to you in due course.

Yours faithfully,

Anindya Zohi Pal
