REPORT:

An Add on Certificate Course on the topic of 'Children's Literature' from 9th March 2023 to 17th March 2023 was organized by the teachers of the Department of English of Turku Hansda Lapsa Hemram Mahavidyalay, under the direction of the Principal and guidance of the Coordinator of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell in the Academic Session of 2022- 2023. A total of 29 students from Semester 4 and Semester 2 of the English Department had joined the Course and it was a great success as the students actively participated in the program which continued for a total of 8 days and 32 hours duration. It was an intra- College but inter-departmental program arranged to give a better idea of the chosen sub- genre of Literature. Along with the teachers of the English Department, Prof. Chandan Mondal of Bengali department of this institution was also invited to speak about the concept of Children's narratives in Bengali Literature.

The Course was divided into eight days of four hours each. Some days had two sessions by two different speakers scheduled according to the module to avoid the monotony of the Course. The students were introduced about the origin, history and development of this unique genre which can actually accommodate a wide variety of texts interesting enough to be read by children and adults simultaneously. Several narratives belonging to this category was taken up in class for preserving the lively spirit within the class. The English department teachers delivered student-friendly bilingual lectures on English and Indian English Children's literary texts. References were drawn from ancient Indian texts like the Panchatantra to highlight the importance of works for children in Indian culture as well. The concept of the evolution of the child as a reader in response to adult literary texts was also taken into account. Various modes of representation like the adventure narratives, the science fiction, the gothic, the mysterious etc were considered for discussion. Special attention was given to the sub genres of Comics and Graphic Novels with textual references to substantiate the subtle difference between the two. Popular works for children like that of Satyajit Ray was also an interesting area of study in this Course.

The students were made to submit assignments based on which they were evaluated and certified as active participants of the Course. This Course will chart a different territory for conducting Research works by the interested students as the underlying theoretical issues along with their politics of representation which could be seen to function in many literary narratives meant for children were also raised but unresolved in this Course. Students were curious to know more about this genre and it was a highly successful event organized by the English Department of this institution.

Report on the Add-on Course

In the academic session of 2022–2023, the teachers of the Department of Geography of Turku Hansda Lapsa Hemram Mahavidyalay organized an Add-on Certificate Course on the topic of "Exploring the Nexus of the Geography with Other Subjects" from 04/04/2023 to 13/04/2023 (32 Hours) including two sessions every day. The course was overseen by the Principal and guided by the Coordinator of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell. In addition to the instructors from the geography department, many speakers from the various departments such as History, Philosophy, Political Science, Chemistry, and Physics were invited to discuss the idea of the existing nexus of geography with various subjects.

A total of 41 students from the second and fourth semesters participated in the course. In addition to submitting assignments based on the knowledge they had learned from the course, students had to participate in a viva voce. Students received a certificate with their grade listed on it after completing the assignment and viva. Few participants obtained an A⁺ grade, the majority of students received an A and very few students received a B grade. Upon finishing the course, students have gained a comprehensive understanding of the current connections between geography and other disciplines. They have also recognized geography as a multidisciplinary field of study.

No of Students participated: 10

No of faculty members delivered lectures: 5

The Chemistry Department organized an Add-on/Certificate Course on "Chemistry for Sustainable Future" from 08/12/2021-18/12/2021. "Chemistry for a Sustainable Future" is a forward-thinking initiative aimed at fostering a deeper understanding of chemistry's pivotal role in shaping a sustainable world. The program delves into the fundamental principles of green chemistry, renewable energy technologies, and innovative materials science, equipping participants with the knowledge and skills to tackle pressing environmental challenges. By emphasizing the interplay between chemistry and sustainability, the course cultivates a new generation of scientists, engineers, and advocates poised to drive meaningful change. Through hands-on experiments, case studies, and expert-led discussions, students gain practical insights into harnessing chemistry's power for environmental stewardship. This comprehensive approach not only empowers individuals to develop eco-friendly solutions but also instills a profound sense of responsibility towards preserving our planet for future generations. "Chemistry for a Sustainable Future" stands as a beacon of hope, inspiring collaborative efforts towards a greener, more sustainable tomorrow.

Add-on/certificate course titled "Basics of Computer Programming"

❖ Report:

The Physics Department recently organized an Add-on/Certificate Course on "Basics of Computer Programming" specifically tailored for undergraduate students. This course aimed to deepen students' understanding of programming fundamentals and enhance their coding skills. Participants learned about variables, data types, and control structures. Students wrote simple programs in languages like Python, Java, or C++. They implemented basic algorithms such as sorting and searching. Theory and concepts were covered. Participants gained essential programming knowledge. Coding skills are highly valued in various industries. The course acted as a stepping stone for further studies in computer science. The brief details of the course are given below.

Course Title: Basics of Computer Programming

Duration: 30 hours

Schedule: 10/01/2022 to 20/01/2022

Venue: Online mode

Instructor: Amit Chandra Das (Physics), Dr Washim Raja (Chemistry), Buddhadeb Ghosh (Physics), Dr Sewli Chatterjee (Mathematics), Chandan Mondal (Mathematics), THLH Mahavidyalay

Number of Enrolled Participants: 10

❖ Conclusion:

The "Basics of Computer Programming" course empowered students to write code, understand algorithms, and apply programming principles effectively.

REPORT:

An Add on Course on the topic of 'The English Novel: The Genre and its Precursors' from 26th March 2022 to 5th April 2022 was organized by the teachers of the Department of English of Turku Hansda Lapsa Hemram Mahavidyalay, under the direction of the Principal and guidance of the Coordinator of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell in the Academic Session of 2021- 2022. A total of 29 students from Semester 4 and Semester 2 of the English Department had joined the Course and it was a great success as the students actively participated in the program which continued for a total of 8 days and 32 hours duration. It was an intra- College but inter- departmental program arranged to give a better idea of the chosen sub- genre of Literature. Besides the teachers of the English Department, Dr. Suman Mukherjee, the Head of the Department of History of this institution was invited to deliver a speech on a relevant theme suitable for the topic.

The Course was divided into eight days of four hours each. Some days had two sessions by two different speakers scheduled according to the module to avoid the monotony of the Course. The students were introduced about the origin, history and development of this unique genre of the English Novel which can actually accommodate a wide variety of texts interesting enough to be read by all kind of readers. The various precursory sub- genres responsible for the rise of the novel were discussed by the speakers to expand the horizon of their understanding about the genre. Since they are made to read a number of novels in their Undergraduate Course, a thorough knowledge about the pre- existing literary and non- literary pieces of writing promoting the growth of the genre of the novel was an interesting way to deal with the genre itself. The socio- cultural history of England was also discussed by the invited speaker with special emphasis on the eighteenth century England. A number of authors like Daniel Defoe, Samuel Richardson, Henry Fielding, Laurence Sterne, which are not included were also discussed for their contribution to the genre.

The students were made to submit assignments based on which they were evaluated and certified as active participants of the Course. This Course charted a different territory for conducting Research works by the interested students as the underlying theoretical issues along with their politics of representation which could be seen to function in many novels were also raised but unresolved in this Course. Students were curious to know more about this genre and it was a highly successful event organized by the English Department.

Add-on/certificate course titled "Chemistry in Everyday Life"

Report

The Chemistry Department organized an Add-on/Certificate Course on "Chemistry in Everyday Life" from 19/11/2018- 01/12/2018. This course is specifically designed for undergraduate students. This course aimed to deepen students' understanding of chemistry principles relevant to their daily experiences. The curriculum covered foundational concepts, including chemical reactions, molecular structures, and equilibrium. Participants explored practical applications in areas such as food additives, medicines, cosmetics, and environmental pollutants. Through a combination of lectures, laboratory sessions, and case studies, students gained insights into the chemistry behind common products and phenomena. 6 teachers from the science departments of our college delivered lectures in this program and 12 students have been benefited from this course. The course fostered scientific literacy and interdisciplinary learning, empowering students for lifelong scientific inquiry and informed decision-making.

Report on the Add-on Course

In the academic session of 2018-2019, the teachers of the Department of Geography of Turku Hansda Lapsa Hemram Mahavidyalay organized an Add-on Certificate Course on the topic of "Basics of Geoinformatics" from 04/04/2019 to 13/04/2019 (32 Hours) including two session every day. The course was overseen by the Principal and guided by the Coordinator of the Internal Quality Assurance Cell. In addition to the instructors from the geography department, many speakers from the various institutions were invited to discuss the basics concepts of Geoinformatics.

A total of 38 students from the second and fourth semesters participated in the course. In addition to submitting assignments based on the knowledge they had learned from the course, students had to participate in a viva voce. Students received a certificate with their grade listed on it after completing the assignment and viva. Few participants obtained an A+ grade, most students received an A grade. Upon finishing the course, students will be able to independently carry out investigation and development work to solve real-life geospatial problems. They will also be able to write and present a substantial technical report/document/international level research article.

A REPORT ON ADD-ON COURSE ON AEROBICS

The Department of Physical Education Turku Hansda Lapsa Hemram Mahavidyalay organized an Add – on certificate course in Aerobics Fitness Program for students from 24th August to September, 2019 in room no 122. The enrollment was for 30 students based on first come first serve basis. Total 29 students enrolled, and all the students completed this course. The examination was conducted with practical and viva basis. The certificates were provided duly.

Aerobics is an excellent way to promote physical awareness, enhancement of cardiovascular fitness, and encouraging mass participation in physical activities. Through this course, students learned various aerobic exercises, dance routines, and techniques to improve their overall fitness levels. The program aimed to instill a culture of health and wellness among the student community. These initiatives contribute to the holistic development of students and foster a sense of well-being within the college community.

Overall, the Aerobics course provided students with an opportunity to stay active, maintain physical fitness, and adopt a healthy lifestyle. It reflects the department's commitment to promoting wellness and encouraging students to engage in regular physical activity.

Add-on/certificate course titled "Physics in Everyday Life"

❖ Report:

The Physics Department organized an Add-on/Certificate Course on "Physics in Everyday Life" specifically tailored for undergraduate students. The course aimed to provide foundational knowledge of physics principles relevant to daily experiences. Topics covered included mechanics, thermodynamics, waves, optics, and magnetism. Students gained practical insights into real-world applications. The course enhanced problem-solving skills and fostered interdisciplinary learning. Overall, it empowered students with a deeper understanding of the natural world. The brief details of the course are given below.

- Course Title: Add-on/Certificate Course on Physics in Everyday Life.
- Duration: 30 hours
- Course Date: 13/11/2019 to 26/11/2019
- Course Teachers: Amit Das, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics, THLH Mahavidyalay; Buddhadeb Ghosh, SACT, Department of Physics, THLH Mahavidyalay; Dr Sewli Chatterjee, Assistant Professor, THLH Mahavidyalay; Chandan Mondal SACT, Department of Mathematics, THLH Mahavidyalay; Dr Wasim Raja, Assistant Professor, Department of Chemistry, THLH Mahavidyalay.
- Number of Enrolled Participants: 12

❖ Conclusion:

The "Physics in Everyday Life" course successfully bridged theory and practice, empowering students with a deeper understanding of the natural world. We believe that this knowledge will serve them well in their academic pursuits and future endeavors.
